Causal Inference: Economic Mobility Report

- Measuring what the 2015 oil-price collapse did to the conditions for economic mobility in Houston, via synthetic difference-in-differences across nine federal data sources;
- Built the study's full estimation pipeline and replication package; drafting the public-facing report

Project Management: Baby Sign Language Pilot Program

- Co-designing a randomized controlled trial to evaluate an existing 8-week baby sign language program's effects on caregiver-child bonding and child development outcomes;
- Engaging community partners to establish recruitment pipelines and program deployment;
- Building grant proposals to secure project funding

Experimental Research: LENA Start Program (RCT)

- Cleaned and merged device-recording and survey data from a 10-week Randomized Controlled Trial in Alief ISD administered over 5 years;
- Assessed sensitivity of OLS estimates to attrition and recording choice using balancing, IPW, and Lee Bounds;
- Implemented causal forests to estimate heterogeneous treatment effects

Policy Analysis: State Early Childcare Programs

- Contributed to qualitative data collection across three Texas state-run childcare support initiatives, conducting interviews and organizing program documentation;
- Co-developed codebooks and coded 90+ interviews alongside a four-person research team;
- Produced stakeholder-facing reports synthesizing program features and key findings, supported with direct quotes from interviews

American Institute for Economic Research, Great Barrington, MA Summer 2021
Summer Research Intern

- Assisted in development of a book chapter detailing a qualitative comparison of two counties, which highlighted the regulation relevant to micro-wind power;
- Collected data and generated figures for various research projects
